

Centre for Response-Based Practice

LUNCH 'N LEARN

Attempted cultural erasure, harm, and resistance

Presented by Kimberly Chiswell,
Therapist, Mother, BSW

Kimberly Chiswell is a mother of 2 and identifies as a settler migrant of Anglo Mexican heritage with white privilege. She provides managerial support to the Nabu and Counselling teams in Waminda. Kimberly has over 20 years' experience, a social worker, clinical supervisor and an educator in at the University of Wollongong. She specialises in the field of Violence and Systemic responses and is constantly trying to unlearn colonising ways of being, doing and thinking.

When: January 19, 2023 at 11:00am PST/2pm EST

Cost: $25 (free for students)

Where: Zoom

Limited Spots Available.
Recording available to attendees.

Reserve by email: welcome@responsebasedpractice.com
When sending an etransfer, please use lunchnlearn as the password.